The University and Study Group shall not be liable for any errors or omissions that may be contained.
Making a difference in the world requires global perspective.

Roosevelt University’s mission is simple: To bring together diverse viewpoints and put knowledge to work for good. International students are a vital part of that mission. Since our founding in 1945, we’ve welcomed and empowered all students to become socially conscious global leaders.

At Roosevelt’s International Study Center, students come from across the world to pursue academic study while improving their English in the heart of downtown Chicago. Our talented faculty and staff also offer specialized support, helping international students achieve their academic goals while expanding their networks and skills in a world-class city.

International students tell us they love Chicago because it is one of the largest and most diverse cities in the United States, and because it is also one of the friendliest. That welcoming spirit extends to Roosevelt, which is home to more than 6,000 students, 700 faculty members and many opportunities for meaningful relationships. Plus, our campus is located within minutes of theaters, museums, parks, Lake Michigan, delicious restaurants, and endless career and volunteer opportunities.

Read on to discover why students from all over the world call Roosevelt, and Chicago, their second home.

THE WABASH BUILDING

LIVE AND LEARN IN ONE PLACE
The Wabash Building is a modern vertical campus located in the heart of the cool and vibrant downtown Chicago.

32 stories
The second tallest academic building in the country, the Wabash Building is 32 stories of classrooms, labs, gathering spaces, student services, dining and fitness facilities, and residences. And the views of beautiful Lake Michigan are unobstructed – sure to inspire, rejuvenate, and relax.

Our blue building is green
Our eco-friendly Wabash Building features green roofs and gardens, motion-sensor lighting, energy and water efficient temperature and plumbing systems, and high-performance glazing.

Live here
Floors 15-31 are student residences (633 beds in private or shared rooms) and student lounges.

Gather here
Floors 14-15 have student laundry, a media room, community kitchen, and recreation room.

Study here
Floors 6 to 13 are learning, research and teaching labs, classrooms and home to the Heller College of Business and the Marshall Bennett School of Real Estate.

Learn here
Floors 1-5 have student services, McCormick Dining Center, Barry Crown Fitness Center, 24/7 security and bicycle storage.
Live and study in the heart of America’s 12th coolest city (Forbes.com, 2012), with fantastic entertainment, cultural attractions and the best bars and restaurants on your doorstep.

Our purpose-built, 32-story vertical campus has amazing views and everything you need inside. Student rooms are modern and comfortable, providing the perfect place to study and relax. From here you can take a dance or yoga class at the gym, go to a lecture or study in our state-of-the-art labs, all just a push of an elevator button away.

Students living on campus get more out of the college experience and truly absorb our diverse and community culture. That’s why we require all full-time undergraduate Chicago Campus students to live in university housing for their first two years.

For convenience and cost considerations, most students choose to live in the dorm units in our main Wabash building. However, students can also choose to live in University Center, a modern residence building ½ block away from Roosevelt’s campus and home to students from both Roosevelt and other universities nearby.

Both residence locations offer shared occupancy and limited individual rooms.

All bedrooms are equipped with extra-long twin beds, wardrobe closets including two drawers, desks and desk chairs. Students are responsible for linens, lamps, and other personal items.

If you are a foodie and love eating out, Chicago is the place to be. The city is home to some of the best food in the US, ranking in the top 10 for big-name restaurants, ethnic cuisine and burgers. People visit from all over the world to try the famous Chicago deep dish pizza. Whatever you love to eat, you’ll find it here.

On campus, great food is what we do. When you want to hang out with your friends and enjoy a good meal, visit one of our cool and friendly cafés and restaurants. The McCormick Dining Center on the 2nd floor of the Wabash Building is open 7 days a week, serving up everything from quick grab-and-go snacks to full home-style meals. For delicious fair trade coffee, smoothies, pizza and sandwiches, visit the RU Metropolis Coffee Shop in the Auditorium Lobby open every day except Sundays. All our cafés and restaurants specialize in sustainable, organic and locally grown foods.

Meal Plans are offered for students living on and off campus. Students living in suites in the University Center (UC) and the Wabash Building are required to participate in a meal plan at the minimum level. For more information, please check out our website.

“Ask yourself this: ‘How will I change the world?’
For we will prepare you to do just that – to change the world in some way – as you learn, create, and live here in this environment.”

PRESIDENT MIDDLETON’S CHARGE TO STUDENTS
Do I get extra personal help to adjust to living in America?
Yes. The ISC welcomes you from the day you arrive on campus and supports you to help you adapt to being an active member of the student community and to living in America.

For undergraduate studies after the ISC, do I continue into the second year of my degree program?
Upon completion of the ISC, you will move into the second year of your degree program.

Do I pay more to get an American degree?
No. Both IY1 and PMP students pay similar tuition to Roosevelt’s regular undergraduate and graduate tuition. In addition, IY1 students may qualify for a $3,500/year scholarship if they maintain satisfactory academic status. See page 17 for details.
The International Year One program is designed for students who need extra help with English before entering a Roosevelt degree program.

The program provides a combination of customized English language courses and first-year university coursework. On average, students earn 23-28 academic credits during International Year One. Students then progress to year two of degree study at the College of Business, College of Arts and Sciences, College of Professional Studies or College of Education.

INTERNATIONAL YEAR ONE SCHOLARSHIP*

Roosevelt University will award a $3,500/year scholarship to each undergraduate student who completes the ISC program with an accumulative GPA of 2.0+. The scholarship will be awarded when an IY1 student transitions to full-time study in regular Roosevelt classes and will be renewable as long as the student makes satisfactory academic progress.

The University will make awards for Fall and Spring semesters only; a credit of $1,750/semester will appear on the student's tuition invoice. The award is not available to students who choose to register for classes during summer session, nor is it available to students who are enrolled for fewer than 12 credits/semester.

* A student's study plan is determined by the result of his/her arrival English placement test, and can be longer or shorter than the original study plan in the offer letter. This chart serves as a guide only.
 Localized entry requirements are available in most countries. Contact the Student Enrollment Advisers for the specific academic requirements for your home country.
†† Students who have completed a 12-week or longer Embassy English program and are at B2 or a higher level are also qualified for the 2-semester IY1 program.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Accounting
The Accounting programs (BSBA, MS and MBA) fully prepare students to pursue rewarding careers in public accounting, managerial accounting, governmental or non-profit accounting.

Human Resource Management
The Human Resource Management programs (BSBA, MS, and MBA) are designed to provide students with the knowledge required for today’s successful Human Resource Manager. The undergraduate program teaches the fundamentals of the management of human resources. The graduate program focuses on the in-depth understanding of the behavioral science theories as well as the laws and practices of contemporary Human Resource Management.

Hospitality and Tourism Management
Chicago is the best place to learn the hospitality and tourism industry with its world-class hotels, restaurants, conventions and a rich blend of ethnic cultures, arts and entertainment, sports and recreation.

Real Estate
The Real Estate programs (MS and MBA) combine urban economics with practical real estate experience, leading to careers within real estate development, management, finance, research and project planning.

Other Business Programs
+ Finance (BSBA, MBA)
+ Management (BSBA, MBA)
+ Marketing (BSBA, MBA)
+ Social Entrepreneurship (BSBA, MBA)

DR. JOE CHAN
DEAN, HELLER COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

“The expert faculty of the Heller College of Business provides our students with a practical and challenging education that prepares them to have immediate impact in the business world after graduation. We prepare students for success in a global environment, always cognizant of the economic and political realities of the workplace. We encourage creative thinking and innovation, confident that our students will come up with their own ideas for changing how business is done. Most importantly, we emphasize personal integrity, social responsibility and business practices that are both ethical and environmentally sustainable. Put simply: we educate business leaders.”

isc.roosevelt.edu
Roosevelt students pass professional exams with a success rate that exceeds the national average.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

The College of Arts and Sciences is the University’s largest college. With a broad range of disciplines and exposure to ideas and debate, students gain a wide platform of knowledge, and learn the communication and reasoning skills they will need in their future careers.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Integrated Marketing Communications
Roosevelt’s BA and MS Integrated Marketing Communications programs prepare students to meet the challenges of working life in companies and non-profits in the US and around the world. Learn how to build brands, create reputations, manage crises, and develop and launch new products and services. This program leads to careers within advertising, public relations, promotional marketing, and other communications professions. Students can take an MBA concentration of this program through the College of Business.

Political Science
Chicago is a global and diverse city and home to a large number of local, state and national government offices, international non-governmental organizations (NGOs), political consultancies, non-profit advocacy groups, and labor organizations. This provides outstanding career opportunities to our students who study in the BA in Political Science program.

International Studies
Home to international organizations, government offices, advocacy centers and think tanks, Chicago is the natural place to gain a BA in International Studies. At Roosevelt, students learn about the international system with a focus on social justice. Career options include intergovernmental organizations such as the United Nations, aid and development work, democracy promotion and international law.

Public Administration
The graduate program leading to the Master of Public Administration (MPA) prepares students for management roles in government, criminal justice, health, environmental, and Studies include six core management and analysis courses, plus courses in policy, service learning, and other specialized courses.

Mathematics
Mathematics is an essential tool for developing theory and research in a broad range of quantitative fields. A BA in Mathematics prepares students for a variety of jobs and careers, to be a mathematics teacher, or to go to graduate school. A five-year MS Mathematics accelerated program is also available.

Actuarial Science
Roosevelt’s BA in Actuarial Science prepares students for the professional exams of the Society of Actuaries and the Casualty Actuary Society. Our students pass professional exams with a success rate that exceeds the national average. Most students find employment with insurance companies, banks, financial planning and investment companies, consulting firms, public accounting firms, large industrial corporations and government.
CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

CHICAGO MEANS BUSINESS

Studying in Chicago offers international students outstanding career opportunities. The city is home to leading Fortune 500 companies, has a thriving start-up and tech entrepreneurship scene and boasts a gross regional product of $496 billion.

Global capital
Chicago has an easy-access location wherever you live in the world, making it a global capital for meetings and conventions. Influential thought leaders and speakers from nearly every industry regularly attend the city’s many events.

Innovation and research
The city has solid reputation for groundbreaking research and development (R&D) facilities. The area is home to 250 corporate R&D facilities, three research centers, medical research centers and teaching hospitals and global pharmaceutical headquarters.

Success starts here
Roosevelt attracts students from all over the world who want to study in a metropolitan and diverse city. Our students have access to great academic and internship opportunities that prepare them for personal and professional success once they graduate.

IAROSLAV LUTSENKO FROM UKRAINE
PRE-MASTER’S PROGRAM, MBA
ISC student Iaroslav participated in the Roosevelt University Student Leadership Summit 2014. Students from all parts of the university joined together on this weekend retreat, sponsored by the Center for Student Involvement, to focus on leadership development, social justice, and how to become better agents of social change.

“All of the people have different backgrounds, not just international students. I started to talk with people and they all have different life experiences. It impressed me that we can connect with each other and find something in common, all through Roosevelt University”

Iaroslav recognized that all the knowledge he gained in the leadership summit is important, because he will not only remember the knowledge but also apply it in his daily life and he discovered that he possesses the potential and qualities of becoming a great leader.

Unrivalled Internship Opportunities
Internships are the most effective way to gain industry work experience, put classroom theory into practice and establish career contacts and relationships. Roosevelt students benefit from the university’s location and strong links with leading businesses and organizations. Recent internships include:

- American Bar Association
- Caldwell Banker
- Chicago Mercantile Exchange
- City of Chicago
- Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago
- Federation of International Trade Associations
- Hilton Hotels and Resorts
- International Trade Club of Chicago
- JP Morgan

RECREATION AND SPORTS

Taking part in sports and fitness activities is a great way to enjoy a healthy and active lifestyle, meet new people and have fun outside of the classroom.

A broad range of fitness activities
The Barry Crown Fitness Center is located in the Wabash Building and is open to all students. The center offers a broad range of fitness activities including zumba, yoga, self-defense, core mat classes, pilates, dance fitness, and more.

Athletics
The Lillian and Larry Goodman Center is Roosevelt’s stand-alone facility for college athletics and home to Roosevelt Lakers Athletics. The center features a multi-purpose gymnasium with basketball hoops and also hosts training activities.

Roosevelt Lakers
The 2012–2013 campaign was a banner one for the Lakers. The women’s basketball team finished the year ranked 10th in the country, after winning the Chicagoland Collegiate Athletic Conference regular season and tournament championships – and advancing to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics National Tournament “Sweet 16.” The Lakers also had two student athletes qualify for the cross-country national championships. With two All-Americans and numerous All-Conference honorees, Roosevelt is a great place to GO GREEN, GO WHITE.

STUDENT LIFE

Get out
Sometimes it’s time to put down your books, close your laptop and have fun in one of the world’s most vibrant and trendy cities. Get out. Make friends. Enjoy yourself. Whatever your passion is, you can pursue it here. There’s always something going on, off and on campus. Intramural sports. Cultural celebrations. Midnight Lake Michigan boat cruises. The Annual Leadership Summit. Or grab your comfy shoes and your (discounted!) transit pass to check out a museum or one of our beloved professional sports teams.

Get involved
60+ student groups on campus include: sororities, fraternities and honor society chapters, Student Government Association, Black Student Union, choral group, radio station, dance group, student newspaper, Asian Student Alliance, Association of Latin American Students, Roosevelt International Student Association, and many more.
